

Parametric assumptions

1. Normality: data have a normal distribution
2. Homogeneity of variances: Data from multiple groups have the same variance
3. Independence: Data belonging to a group should be independent
4. No outliers: There should not be any outlier in each group